

The current "Do Not Call" law is wonderful. I've almost decided to resume picking up the phone when it rings unexpectedly, instead of using my answering machine to screen out the telemarketing calls. If most of the people with phone lines have requested that they not receive telemarketing calls, is it not clear what a government that is by the people and for the people should do in this case? Please tell the businesses that want to perpetuate these intrusive nuisance telemarketing calls that we, the people, don't want them.
